

A photograph of a man and a young boy walking together in a park-like setting. The man, on the right, is wearing a striped polo shirt and blue shorts, holding the boy's hand. The boy, on the left, is wearing a black t-shirt with a graphic, blue shorts, and a white face mask. They are walking on a paved path with red and grey stripes. In the background, there are large trees, a red and white flag, and a street lamp. The word "PARENT" is written vertically in large white letters across the center of the image.
